'MISLEADING CLAIMS' FURY

A PRESSURE group fighting plans to build thousands of new homes north of Harlow has accused the project's backers of "hoodwinking" residents with misleading promotional literature.

Stop Harlow North (SHN) claim a circular produced by the North Harlow Joint Venture Partnership (NHJV) deliberately gives the impression that the pro-development flyer is endorsed by East Herts District Council.

As the Star reported earlier this month, the authority has launched a public consultation on the long-term future of house building in the district, putting the Harlow North scheme back on the agenda just months after the East of England Plan was scrapped by the Coalition Government.

SHN secretary Nigel Clark said: "The flyer has caused outrage in the community. Its opening paragraph gives the impression that it is an East Herts District Council document – it is not.

"Claiming Harlow North can meet all the district's housing needs fails to understand basic planning principles and is perceived as trying to set one group of East Herts residents against another."

The group also claims that NHJV – a joint venture between Places For people and Land Securities – has skewed the results of its own consultation process in a bid to show public support for the scheme, which could see up to 25,000 homes built on green belt land just over the Essex-Herts border.

"Although residents have repeatedly stated their opposition to the principle of major development on the green fields north of Harlow,

Harlow North venture under fire over flyer

NHJV continue to use such feedback to demonstrate community engagement to support their scheme.

"We urge residents not to attend NHJV exhibitions as they will use attendance figures to claim they have consulted with residents."

But a spokesman for NHJV defended the partnership's promotional activity, saying that residents deserved to be kept up-to-date on the proposals.

"We are giving people the opportunity to make an informed view based on our proposals and have a democratic say about how best to meet future housing need in East Hertfordshire and the wider area," he said. "As such, over the past year we have held numerous open public events so that we can listen to people and give them the opportunity to informally meet our team and question our evolving plans."

"This is why we recently mailed households across the area to update them on North Harlow, as well as giving local communities the opportunity to have their say through our website."

The spokesman claimed NHJV had been "delighted" with the level of feedback it had received to date.

"We will continue to engage with people so that they can help shape future proposals for North Harlow," he added.

Sci-fi days will be out of this world

TREKKIES and wanna-be Jedi warriors will be out in Force when the Harvey Centre hosts a sci-fi weekend next month.

The shopping mall will once again join forces with collectables store 3 Darth Comics to give the town's science fiction buffs the chance to meet and greet some of their favourite characters from film and television.

Among those attending the event will be Brian Muir, the creator of the iconic mask for Star Wars baddie Darth Vader, who will be signing copies of his recently published book, In the Shadow of Vader.

Fans of the celebrated comedy television series Red Dwarf will get the chance to meet Chloe Annett, who played the role of Kristine Kochanski in the seventh and eighth series of the hit show, while Ian Whyte, the man who played fearsome extra-terrestrial killer The Predator in the 2003 film Alien Vs Predator, will also be dropping by.

The event will kick off on Saturday, October 1 and run over the weekend.

Heartless thieves steal kittens during break-in

Fame awaits rising stars of the stage

A GROUP of budding young thespians got a taste of the glitz and glamour of a career in showbiz when they staged the dazzling hit musical Fame.

Children on The Academy Performing Arts School's week-long summer course at Burnt Mill School in Harlow performed the one-hour production to a sold-out audience of 100 people. Forty-five youngsters auditioned for the main singing and speaking parts but tutors made sure everyone had a role to play. Their show-stopping final performance was illuminated by professional lighting and sound equipment. Academy tutor Becky Oliver said: "It was as close to a professional performance as it we could make it. "I was really proud of them and I think they did really well. The children loved it."

Many of the youngsters who took part will also be performing Spice Up Your Life! at the Harlow Playhouse in October. Tickets are available now from www.theacademy.me.uk or the Playhouse box office on (01279) 431945.

A SPATE of burglaries in Harlow last weekend has sparked calls for residents to ensure their homes are secure.

A total of nine neighbourhoods were targeted by thieves between Thursday and Sunday.

In one incident in Northbrooks, callous crooks stole a group of five helpless one-week old kittens.

Other items stolen in raids on addresses in Rye Hill Road, Northbrooks, Broadfield, Morley Grove, Milwards, Westfield, Arkwrights, Whitewaits and The Downs included cash, electrical items, documents and a silver Vauxhall Zafira.

Police have enlisted the help of local Neighbourhood Watch groups to remind residents of the importance of securing their homes and are appealing for any witnesses to the raids to come forward.

Crime reduction officer Graham Anthony said: "Over half the burglaries were caused by doors being forced due to not being locked properly with a key – in one burglary the front door was completely insecure.

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"Residents are urged to take greater care in securing their homes, especially when going out or retiring to bed."

In a stark warning for those who forget to secure their properties, he added: "Be aware that if you do not secure your home properly you may find some insurers may refuse to pay out."

Residents are advised to make sure all doors and windows – particularly those on the ground floor – are properly secured and that car keys are kept in a safe but not obvious place.

Police are urging anyone with any information to contact detectives at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

VISITORS to Harlow's Pets' Corner received a surprise treat over the weekend when a litter of rare Essex saddleback piglets were born. Mother Duchess gave birth to the 10 little porkers on Sunday afternoon, with the first arriving at 3.15pm and the last of the brood born at 6.30pm. Visitors who witnessed the birth enjoyed taking photos of the new arrivals, who are already up and about causing mischief for mum! Mother and piglets are said to be doing extremely well and are being carefully looked after by Pets' Corner staff.

Police arrest six in morning raids

POLICE launched dawn raids across Harlow on Tuesday as part of a continued crackdown on burglary and drugs.

Officers from Harlow neighbourhood policing team executed six warrants in the early hours at addresses in Pennymead, Ladyshot, Sewell Harris Close, Hornbeams and Willowfields, seizing a large quantity of suspected illicit substances.

A 59-year-old woman, a 57-year-old man and a 31-year-old man were all arrested on suspicion of drug offences and later cautioned for cannabis cultivation.

A 19-year-old woman arrested on suspicion of possessing cannabis received a caution for

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

possession of a controlled substance, while two men aged 21 and 25 currently remain in police custody.

Sgt Lewis Basford said the co-ordinated raids were part of the force's continuing crusade against the twin scourges of burglary and illegal drug dealing in the town.

"Quite simply, drugs ruin lives – not only to the person taking the drugs, but it also has an impact on caring family and friends," he said.

"This kind of habit can often lead onto other crimes such as burglary and theft to fund their addiction."

He added that police relied on information from residents to secure arrest warrants and convictions.

"I ask for residents to come forward with information on who is committing crime or dealing drugs in the area," he said.

"I appreciate this takes a lot of courage but we need people to put pen to paper to help secure convictions.

"Together with our partners we will seek where possible for a closure order. These orders can be placed on any person's property who we find is involved in drugs or causing anti-social behaviour within their community, and could result in the occupants making themselves homeless."

COMING IN: police swoop on Tuesday morning.

Man killed in horror bike crash

A MOTORCYCLIST from Harlow was killed after losing control of his bike on a motorway in Sussex on Sunday.

Sussex police said Gary Robinson (47), of Westfield, was thrown into the path of oncoming traffic after his silver Yamaha XJR 1300 hit the central reservation on the M23 in Crawley.

The motorway was closed for several hours after the incident.

Officers believe Mr Robinson was travelling home from a motorcycle rally in Brighton when the crash happened at around 4pm.

Inspector Andy Judson said it was not yet clear how the rider lost control of his bike.

"The result was devastating and extremely distressing for the many people who witnessed the collision or its aftermath," he said.

"I appreciate that this caused considerable disruption in the area, but it was a complex recovery, investigation and clean up operation and I should like to thank people for their patience and understanding."

Cultural celebrations as centre marks milestone

MORE than 200 people enjoyed a taste of the Far East as Harlow's Chinese Community Centre celebrated its 10th anniversary. Guests at the sold-out event on Commons Road tucked into a delicious Giant Basin feast and were entertained by Lion Dancers, traditional Chinese music, a Tai Chi demonstration and karaoke. Special guests on the day included Harlow MP Rob Halfon, Inspector Andy Bray from Essex police and Chinese ambassador Kun Zhao, who travelled from the Chinese Embassy in central London to attend. Everyone who attended also received a copy of a commemorative magazine printed especially for the occasion. Centre manager Henrietta Fung said: "It was a wonderful day and everyone enjoyed the fantastic food and entertainment on offer. "There were some very entertaining performances showcasing some great Chinese traditions and everyone left with a smile on their face!"

FEAST OF FUN: above, guests enjoyed traditional dances, food and music, as well as Tai Chi display when the community centre celebrated its 10th birthday.

Lord will not claim immunity

THE former Conservative leader of Essex County Council accused of making fraudulent expenses claims will not attempt to claim immunity from prosecution.

Lord Hanningfield (70) – whose real name is Paul White – is facing charges for allegedly claiming expenses for staying in London when he was at his home in West Hanningfield.

But he has not joined the three former Labour MPs, facing the same charge, in asking the Supreme Court to review the decision made by the Lord Chief Justice that all four are not immune from prosecution under parliamentary privilege.

Former Labour MPs David Chaytor, Elliot Morley and Jim Devine, who all stood down at the last election, deny charges of theft by false accounting.

Lord Hanningfield resigned from his position as leader of the county council in February but remains a councillor.

Town shops set to 'bounce back'

HARLOW has one of the highest shop vacancy rates in the country – but according to the manager of the bustling Water Gardens complex, the town is well-equipped to fight back.

A report by the Local Data Company found that 19.75 per cent of retail units in the town centre were unoccupied, placing Harlow 19th in the list of the country's ghost towns.

But Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy told the Star that the town should not be written off just yet, pointing to the continuing success of the shopping centre that dominates the southern end of the town centre.

"Our retailers continue to perform above expectations considering the enormous pressure they are under with the country's economy in the state it's currently in," she said.

"The complex is bucking negative national trends, business is relatively good and we haven't seen any decrease in customer footfall."

The centre will shortly welcome another big high street chain to its ranks when fashion retailer H&M opens in November, and Ms Murphy expects the store to attract more out-of-town shoppers into Harlow.

"It's fantastic to have an H&M in Harlow – it's one of the UK's most popular fashion retailers and there isn't currently another branch anywhere near Harlow.

"It's these kind of big-name stores that will attract young, fashion-conscious shoppers to the town, which is good news for us, good news for other retailers in Harlow and good news for the town as a whole."

The town has hit the headlines in recent weeks after it emerged that Sapphire Retail Fund – the company which owned the Harvey Centre and most of the town centre's retail units – had been placed into administration.

In a further blow, the Star then revealed that Harlow Renaissance – the organisation set up in 2007 to spearhead the town's growth and regeneration – would be mothballed next year after its main sources of funding dried up.

But Ms Murphy said she remained confident that the future looks bright for Harlow.

"Some people might expect me to be wary of the proposed regeneration of town centre north, but I see it as something to complement what we've created in The Water Gardens and I'm confident the proposals can be salvaged," she said.

"It's all doom and gloom at the moment, but I've every confidence the town can bounce back and regain its rightful place as one of the region's top shopping destinations."

History officer settles score on Cup side visits

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

There's nothing quite like the game of football to spark a debate.

So when we recently looked back to 1966, when the Portuguese national team and star player Eusebio visited Harlow, we knew it might become a tale of two halves.

Reader Terry Chandler told Nostalgia how the team stayed at the Saxon Inn, now the Park Inn, on Southern Way, during the World Cup that year.

He supplied pictures of Eusebio and the team training at the Sports-centre.

But this prompted John Coote, of Roden Close, to come forward with a different version of events.

Mr Coote, who was then 12, told Nostalgia: "My recollection of the 1966 World Cup and Eusebio at the Saxon Inn is different to that mentioned in your article.

"I thought that it was Uruguay who stayed there in 1966, not Portugal. I vaguely remember going to see them train at the Sportcentre one Sunday afternoon."

Mr Coote remembers that Uruguay's star player was Pedro Rocha. Uruguay played England at Wembley in the opening game of the tournament.

"Portugal's group in 1966 was in the North West," he said.

"Their famous 5-3 win over North Korea was at Goodison Park [in Liverpool], so they would not have been based in Harlow for the whole tournament."

Mr Coote conceded that Eusebio might have stayed at the Saxon Inn when they played England in the semi-final, however he guessed that the pictures might date from 1968.

"Two years later when Benfica played Manchester United in the European Cup Final at Wembley I think they too stayed at the Saxon Inn," he said.

"Thus, that was when Eusebio came to Harlow. I remember forcing my autograph book through the coach window to get his signature and also people like Torres, a big towering centre forward."

So who is right? Well, Nostalgia consulted local history officer David Devine at Museum of Harlow to find out. The answer is: they both are!

"According to Harlow: The Story of a New Town three teams stayed at the Saxon Inn in 1966," said David. "They were Portugal, Uruguay and Argentina."

The museum's collection of newspaper records confirm that Uruguay stayed there the longest – from July 1 to 28 – while Portugal stayed from July 24 to August 1.

The Argentine team took over from the Uruguayans on July 29.

David also found this picture in the museum's archives of Eusebio and a colleague in training at the Sports-centre in 1966.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Grand designs

Following our coverage of the old Harlow College, otherwise known as St Mary's College in Old Harlow, this picture landed on the Nostalgia desk.

It dates from 1862 and shows an artist's impression of the building before it was built.

It is an old cutting from a newspaper of the day and it showed a much more extensive building than ever saw the light of day. Only the far L-shaped section was ever built.

The picture was kindly brought in by Colin Porcher, treasurer of the Old Harlovians – the school's alumni club.

The school has since been demolished to make way for the Jocelyns estate.

Chief holds fire on deal sign-off

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow are set to resume industrial action next week after protracted talks between service chiefs and union officials over proposed frontline cuts broke down yet again.

Essex Fire Brigades Union (FBU) confirmed on Monday that its members would refuse to do overtime or cover staff absences after Essex County Fire & Rescue Service (ECFRS) bosses refused to sign an agreement safeguarding frontline jobs and conditions.

ECFRS said it did not want to commit to the compromise deal until the full extent of the Government's public spending cuts were revealed next month, but the FBU accused the authority of "backing away" from negotiations.

Essex FBU secretary Keith Flynn said: "Quite frankly, our members are livid."

"In good faith, throughout the summer fire crews have tried to cover the shortages on the frontline caused

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

by the cuts while we have been negotiating a compromise settlement – that good faith has now been thrown back in their face.

"We had a deal to end the dispute and now the fire authority has backed away from it."

The long-running and acrimonious dispute began last year after 44 firefighters were axed from frontline fire stations – a cutback the FBU argued would lead to compromises to the emergency service.

Fire crews in Harlow and the rest of the county started industrial action short of strike on August 26 last year, which was temporarily suspended in April as talks progressed and a negotiated settlement seemed imminent.

It was thought an agreement had been reached between negotiators on July 13, and the settlement document was set to be signed by chief fire officer David Johnson at a meeting arranged for July 21.

But according to the union, Mr Johnson then unilaterally inserted a last-minute amendment to the settlement document without prior consultation, scuppering all prospects of an agreement.

Mr Johnson this week hit back at the FBU's criticisms, claiming it would be "entirely reckless" for ECFRS to commit to arrangements that may have to be altered after the service's new spending targets are revealed in October.

"With the agreement of the fire authority chairman, we felt it would be misleading to our firefighters to sign now knowing we are likely to face major changes in just five weeks time," he said.

"The union had ample opportunity to sign the agreement when it was first presented to officials but they have continued to challenge us and drag their heels over many months. "We don't know what level of cuts we will be facing but as we have said all along, we can't rule anything in or out until we know the extent to which cuts will have to be made."

Move above board and apologies now needed

SIR, There has been a great deal of media and political speculation surrounding my recent move into a new council property.

It is important I set the record straight and categorically confirm that everything involving my family's new home is completely above board and legal and has been done in an open and honest process. Officials at Harlow Council have now confirmed this to be the case.

I will say that the recent media reports and letters to the press have caused myself and my family great anguish and stress at what has been a very difficult time for us all. My family and I are very upset with regards Cllr Millington, Cllr Wilkinson and Cllr Strachan's comments and would now expect a public apology into the comments they have made surrounding this. This has been a political football for something that is personal to my family.

A call from inside the walls of council, by councillors, was made for me to step down until my name was cleared. This again was proven unfounded and my family and I would also expect an apology from those councillors.

Not once have I or close members of my family ever doubted that this move was done in any other way but honestly and I am ashamed that other councillors should even think that the move or works were done as part of my political status. The two investigations have shown this and I am pleased that Harlow Council has now made a statement to that effect.

We would also like to thank the Star for the well balanced stories that have been written but would hope this would now be the end to the matter.

We would also like to thank Cllrs Andrew Johnson, Eddie Johnson, Tony Hall and Guy Mitchinson for their continued support on this matter.

I would urge everyone, political friend and foe, to stop speculation about my family's move and to please leave us in peace.

I am proud to serve my community as a district and county councillor and will go on doing my duty by them and also to my family.

There will be no further comment by myself or my family and I would urge once again for everyone to please let us get on with our lives.

Cllr Lee Dangerfield

Support for charity, not rent increases

SIR, I am shocked by the attitude of Harlow Council towards local charity The Cornerstone Trust, highlighted by the Star in the last issue. The council's demand for a 50 per cent increase in rent and unreasonable contract conditions are totally unacceptable and in my opinion suggest bully-boy tactics.

The council attitude and actions threaten the future of the charity and the 20 people it employs, as well as its potential for helping the most vulnerable in our society. Cornerstone is not a commercial organisation, the trustees and staff are caring people trying to do their part to help people with learning difficulties and are excellent at what they do.

This is a valuable job done by local people to support local people. Rather than be bullied by the council and future threatened by them I would expect the council to support and encourage this type of local initiative. I thought this was the idea of David Cameron's "Big Society"? Come on Conservative Harlow Council, why increase the rent at all and why not fund and support them? We need more encouragement for initiative and excellence, not opposition. Thank you to the Star for highlighting this issue!

We must deal with massive debt crisis

SIR, I understand that given the terrible state of the economy and the significant reforms that are needed to deal with the £900 billion national debt, that some of your correspondents will be worried about the impact on the less well-off (Star, September 2). Contrary to what has been argued by some opposing political parties, let us look at the facts. The budget will protect people on low incomes and the poorest, because:

- Income tax allowance is to be increased by £1,000 in April to £7,475. This is worth £170 a year to basic rate taxpayers in Harlow. However, top-rate taxpayers will not benefit;
- Council tax will be frozen. This is worth about £35 this year to every Harlow household;
- Triple guarantee of pensions.

Pensions will rise each year by the higher of earnings, inflation or 2.5 per cent. This means 17,000 pensioners in Harlow will benefit;

- Increase in child tax credit for low income families. For low income families in Harlow, the amount per child will rise by £150 above inflation next year;
- Pay increase for low income workers. The 1.7 million public sector employees who earn less than £21,000 a year will have a pay increase of £250 a year for two years running;
- 50,000 extra apprenticeships;
- The youth employment guarantee scheme. Anyone aged under 24 will be guaranteed a job or training once they have been unemployed for six months. We will extend this scheme to March 2012;
- All social tenants will be able to start a business in their home. This was outlawed under the old Labour government.

No reasonable person denies that there are difficult times ahead, and that sadly there will be some casualties. Nevertheless, because of Gordon Brown's mismanagement of the economy, the national debt amounts to nearly £25,000 for every man, woman and child.

If we don't deal with that debt, mortgage rates will rise and there will be less money to spend on real public

Take some simple steps to stop burglars

SIR, This weekend, Harlow police reported another spate of burglaries from people's homes. Most of these occurred because people had not locked their doors or had inadequately locked them. Some of these occurred at night. Experienced burglars can easily negotiate doors which are not double-locked. If people, in addition, leave things like car keys, handbags, wallets and purses in convenient places downstairs, a burglar can make off with money, credit cards and even your car within no more than two or three minutes.

Harlow Neighbourhood Watch advises you to take full precautions against these types of burglary, which have been on the increase in Harlow this year.

The Harlow police crime reduction officer can be contacted on 0300 333 4444 for advice on a variety of additional security message that residents can take.

services. Moreover, it should be noted that the Conservative-Liberal Government is increasing public spending in a prudent way: by £68 billion in the next five years. This is more than £1,200 extra for each person in the British Isles. It is a myth that public spending is not increasing. This is being funded in part by a "Robin Hood" levy on the banks.

Pet problem needs council solution

SIR, There is a growing number of council tenants who are keeping a multiplicity of cats/kittens. I know this to be a fact as I have this problem in my own area, leading to a garden full of cat faeces and hungry felines looking to be fed every time you open your kitchen door.

One way surely to quell this ever-increasing problem and suffering to the animals would be for Harlow Council to make all tenants agree to have their pets castrated. In fact, I was under the impression that the council had put forward this idea some time ago.

I know that it is early days yet but could I please ask that readers do not buy pets as Christmas presents as this only adds to an ever-increasing problem, and I know that the RSPCA are on the point of becoming overwhelmed.

Collections help set the standard

SIR, In response to A. Buckman's letter "Textile collections are too infrequent" (Star, September 2), far from being doomed, Harlow has been extremely successful in pioneering the kerbside collection of textiles, electrical items, batteries and household items. The frequency of collections, at every 12 weeks, has proved very popular with residents. It is a service that they can depend on, they know it contributes to Harlow's recycling rates and it helps local people. The collections have been running in Harlow for more than six years and are a local partnership between Harlow Council, the waste and recycling contractor Veolia and local environmental charity ECCO. With regard to gangs operating in the area, A. Buckman makes an extremely valid point. We have daily, direct contact with their criminal activities. They operate under bogus charity names, charities that are registered abroad and they steal bags from doorsteps. We continue to work with the police to have them arrested when we catch them and we liaise with Companies House and Trading Standards to try and stop them operating outside the law.

It is correct that certain shops do take back used batteries, but the retail take-back schemes, on their own, will not be sufficient to meet the targets set for battery recycling. To achieve the targets we need to use the most successful method of capturing used batteries and that is through kerbside collection.

ECCO and Harlow Council ran one of the most successful pilot battery kerbside schemes in the UK that proved this point.

Let's all work to rebuild our party

SIR, I would like to thank the members of Harlow for nominating me as next leader of the Labour Party.

Winning back the voters Labour lost won't be easy. Labour has to change, to listen and to become the change that Britain needs. We start this process by electing someone who is ready to face David Cameron at Prime Minister's Questions and stand as a credible alternative Prime Minister at the next election. That is why I am standing – to win for Labour.

I am honoured to have the support of Harlow party members in my campaign. I promise I won't let you down and that together we will rebuild our party and win for our values.

Local party members have had their say, in a few days millions of party members and members of trade unions will be asked to decide on who should be Labour's leader. I would urge all

Star readers to use your vote and to visit www.davidmiliband.net to join the debate on Britain's future.

Aerial battle won with Polish flyers

SIR, At a time when the country is remembering the Battle of Britain which raged over our skies 70 years ago, we should also remember that during the Second World War up to 19,400 Polish airmen served alongside the RAF and contributed a great deal to the fight against Nazi Germany. By far the largest group of foreign airmen in the Battle of Britain were Polish. They were also amongst the most skilful of any air force and 30 of them gave their lives in the summer and autumn of 1940 alone. Polish flying skills were well-developed from the invasion of Poland and the pilots were regarded as fearless. Their success rates were very high in comparison to the less-experienced British Commonwealth pilots. Polish squadrons spent some time at nearby North Weald and Duxford airfields fighting over the skies of Essex.

Today many thousands of Poles have made England their home and many live in Harlow. I hope this generation don't forget the history that binds our two nations together and we all treat our Polish friends with respect.

AMAZING LIFE: Anne Wafula-Strike with My Story presenter, Ronan Keating. (photo: BBC)

Athlete Anne's story captures judges' hearts

A HARLOW paralympian's inspirational life story has been published after winning a televised competition run by the BBC.

Wheelchair racer Anne Wafula-Strike (40), of Willowfield, was left permanently disabled after being struck down with polio at the age of two and ever since has battled to overcome prejudice and ignorance of her condition.

But it is testament to her enormous strength of character and iron will to succeed that today, some 38 years later, the Kenyan-born athlete and teacher is poised to represent her adopted country of Great Britain in the 2012 Paralympics.

Her remarkable story of one woman's struggle against all the odds moved judges of the My Story competition – broadcast weekly on BBC One and presented by pop star Ronan Keating – to award her with a publishing contract with Harper Collins.

"I can't believe that my story has been published – it's quite surreal," she told the Star this week.

"I only entered the competition after my husband spotted an advert in Harlow Library, and I decided I'd give it a go and send off a brief summary of my life.

"I didn't hear anything for months and had almost forgotten about it completely when I got a call from the BBC saying my story had made it through to the next round – and it just snowballed from there."

She was revealed as a competition winner on Tuesday evening's programme and her 277-page book, In My Dreams I Dance, is now available to buy in bookshops and online, priced £6.99.

She told the Star that writing her story had been an "incredibly emotional journey".

"It brought back some painful memories," she added. "My family and I were cast out of our village because of my condition – people simply didn't understand what was wrong with me and thought it was some kind of curse."

"But on the whole writing the book has been a wonderful, cathartic experience, allowing me to reconnect with my past and speak with members of my family, most of whom still live in Kenya."

"I just hope my story can inspire others to overcome their own disabilities and disadvantages and strive for a better life."

CHRIS MOSS talks to Paralympian Ann Wafula-Strike about her incredible life story, which has now been published after winning a BBC TV competition

No more sweets for tubby monkey!

AN OVERWEIGHT orangutan is hoping to become king of the slimmers after ballooning to twice her normal body weight.

Keepers at Monkey World rescue centre were shocked to find tubby Oshine weighed a whopping 100kg upon her arrival from South Africa.

But now staff at the Dorset animal sanctuary are making sure she sticks to a strict diet of fruit and vegetables and takes plenty of exercise as they attempt to help her slim down.

The ape was offered to the rescue centre by her owner in South Africa – where she was being kept as a pet – making the 10-hour flight from Johannesburg in a specially made cage.

It's thought that being kept as a pet led Oshine to put on lots of weight as she didn't lead an orangutan's typical active lifestyle and was regularly fed sweets, jelly and marshmallows.

At the moment, Oshine is living in the rescue centre's creche with baby orangutans while she learns more about normal orangutan behaviour and works to lose weight.

But once she is fitter she will join other adult orangutans, where it's hoped she will one day be able to breed and start a family of her own.

MP joins pupils' call to slow down near school

HARLOW MP Rob Halfon has backed a Harlow primary school's long-running road safety campaign after listening to pupils' concerns. Latton Green Primary School has been calling for speed restrictions to be introduced on Commons Road for more than 10 years.

With no zebra crossing, pupils currently rely on a lollipop lady to help them cross the busy street. But following a visit to the Riddings Lane school last Friday, Mr Halfon vowed to call on Essex County Council for a swift review of road safety measures. He said: "I will do everything I can to press the authorities to do whatever is needed to make it safer for the children to get to and from the school." The school recently launched the Keep Me Safe campaign to push for the measures, and school governor Debbie Bartam said that pupils' safety was the school's top priority. She said: "We are really concerned about the speed of the traffic on Commons Road and want to make people aware that there is a school here, so we are asking that people drive with care. "We've never done anything as big as this campaign before and hope the council can put in traffic calming measures."

Tory leader stands up for Dangerfield

UNDER-FIRE councillor Lee Dangerfield was the subject of a string of questions at a heated council meeting last week.

The chairman of Harlow Council's housing policy working group hit the headlines in the Star recently after denying accusations that he used his influence to secure a new council house for his family.

The Conservative member has also been at the centre of an expensive row after claiming more than £1,000 for his annual mobile phone bill.

Both Cllr Dangerfield and his wife, Cllr Sarah Dangerfield, were absent from Thursday's full council meeting, leaving the authority's Tory leader Andrew Johnson to answer questions from the public and opposition members.

Asked by Green Hills resident Hugh Hoad why the administration would not support calls for a full investigation into the Dangerfields' move, Cllr Johnson said: "All offers of council accommodation are made in accordance with current council policies."

Labour councillor Tony Durcan asked if the Dangerfields had reported themselves to the Standards Board for investigation while Liberal Democrat councillor Nick Macy compared the embattled couple to the former Tory MP Neil Hamilton and his wife Christine.

Cllr Durcan said: "The reputation not only of the Dangerfields but all Harlow councillors is at stake - particularly in the light of the recent MPs' expenses scandal."

But Cllr Johnson told those at the meeting he was not aware of any breach of the council's code of conduct.

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

He added: "I have been assured by the chief executive and head of legal that in this case there was nothing out of the ordinary."

Lib Dem councillor John Strachan asked why Cllr Dangerfield's mobile phone bill was more than six times the average for councillors in 2009-10.

But Cllr Johnson claimed the phone bill showed that Cllr Dangerfield was "an active councillor" who had "made more telephone calls than other members".

When pressed on whether he was confident Cllr Dangerfield had wracked up the bill in the course his council duties, he said: "Cllr Dangerfield assures me this is so."

But he later added that he had been surprised by his own £360 phone bill for the year, and he had asked council officers to look into finding cheaper tariffs for councillors' BlackBerry phones.

Council chief executive Malcolm Morley later emailed councillors assuring them that an internal investigation into the Dangerfields' move to the council house had found no evidence of impropriety.

It read: "I can confirm that a review of the application of processes for the allocation and repair of the house they have been allocated has been carried out."

"I am satisfied that the allocation of the house was in accordance with the council's policies and procedures. I am also satisfied that the works done to the house were within the scope of works that would normally be done to such a house."

Players race in with station cash

SIX teams battled it out on Passmores School and Technology College's sport field in a charity rounders tournament set up by a local hospital radio station.

Teams from Harlow Hospital Radio (HHR), Chelmsford, Northwick Park Hospital Radio, Ware TV FC, Hertford Television Services and The MET Police took part, with the hard-hitting MET side being crowned the overall winners.

Team MET donated the £140 prize money to Harlow Hospital Radio to go towards a newly refurbished studio.

Speaking after the all-day event, HHR chairman Andy Meadows said: "Despite the wet and windy weather a great time was had by all and we hope next year to make it a bigger and better competition."

"A massive thank you must go to Passmores School for letting us use the sports field free of charge, and to Rounders England for supplying all the equipment and umpires on the day."

The radio station is also set to broadcast a 40-hour marathon live show later this month as part of its 40th anniversary celebrations.

Starting at 6am on Saturday, September 25, the landmark event will feature the return of one of the station's founding members and the revival of now defunct shows.

HHR is run entirely by volunteers and broadcasts 24 hours a day, seven days a week to the patients of Princess Alexandra Hospital in Hamstel Road.

Off to the movies

HARLOW pupils will be able to enjoy free screenings throughout October as part of National Schools Film Week. Screenings at Harlow Cineworld, in the Queensgate Centre, in Edinburgh Way, include How to Train Your Dragon, The Spiderwick Chronicles, The Chronicles of Narnia: Prince Caspian, Invictus, The Boy in the Striped Pyjamas, Up and Alvin and the Chipmunks: The Squeakquel.

Organisers say the festival's screenings, from October 14 to 22, are not just an ordinary excursion to the cinema. Learning materials relating to each film will be available online to encourage children to think more critically about what they have watched. Teachers can use the materials to connect the films to topics in the classroom. For free tickets, go to www.nsfw.org.

Couple's invite to step out for cancer nurses

A CHARITABLE couple from Old Harlow are inviting community members to join them on a 5km sponsored walk to raise money for Marie Curie Cancer Care.

Rosemary and Colin Wright said they are forever indebted to the charity after witnessing the kindness of nurses who cared for Mrs Wright's mother, Doris, as she neared the end of her life.

After collecting money on behalf of the charity over the past two years, they decided to plan something more ambitious, coming up with the idea of leading a group walk around historic Old Harlow.

Mr Wright told the Star: "When Doris's husband passed away after a long battle with illness, we hoped she'd have some time to recuperate."

"She spent her whole life tending to others. If you knocked on her door, you'd soon afterwards find yourself settled into a comfortable chair, tea and cakes in hand, as well as a friendly ear ready to take in your problems."

By MAIYA KEIDAN
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

But it wasn't long after the death of her husband that the doctors broke the devastating news that Doris was suffering from an inoperable form of cancer.

The Wrights were struggling to juggle jobs, responsibilities at home and taking care of Doris when Marie Curie Cancer Care nurses stepped in to shoulder some of the responsibility.

"It wasn't just a case of 'We'll help the mum'," Colin said. "It was a case of 'We'll help you, too'. They really looked after my wife."

The couple are now looking forward to being able to give something back to the charity.

"We can repay them by bringing in funds and that money can help other people get the same help," Mr Wright added.

● The walk will take place on Sunday, September 26 and registration is £5 for adults and free for children under 16. For more information, and to register, email wright\_colin@sky.com.

Walkers hit the streets for charity

WALKERS turned out in force for a charity stroll on Sunday to show their support for the Harlow branch of the Alzheimer's Society.

A group of around 140 people followed a picturesque four-mile route of the annual Memory Walk, alongside the River Stort, to raise awareness and money for the charity, based in the Latton Bush Centre.

Support services manager Marion Howell told the Star this year's event was another big success.

"It was a great day and I'd like to thank everyone who took part for helping to raise awareness and money for this vital cause," she said.

"Inevitably, as we all live longer the number of people with dementia will grow, and soon we will all know a member of our family, friends or neighbours with this condition.

"It is important people know they are not on their own."

The Harlow branch of the charity has been serving the community for many years, offering a number of supportive services for carers, family and friends and patients suffering from dementia.

The organisation has recently launched two new services, and now offers hospital-based support and information to patients diagnosed with dementia, as well as weekly events designed to keep patients under the age of 65 active.

Ms Howell said: "For too long, people who have been diagnosed with one of the most serious illnesses, for which there is no cure, have been leaving the hospital gates uncertain about where to go for help.

"These new services will ensure that people will not become isolated and we hope it will increase their confidence and self-esteem."

For more information contact the Alzheimer's Society at (01279) 418331.

£15k for new pastors team

HARLOW'S newly-formed team of Street Pastors have been awarded £15,000 to help expand their work over the next few years.

One hundred people gathered on Friday night to watch the team of Christian counsellors receive the cheque from Inspector Andy Bray on behalf of Essex police.

Following the service, the group went to town prepared to dole out counselling, assistance for distressed drinkers and prayers on request.

Team member Giles Wright said the first night was a huge success.

"It was largely a quiet night for the town with not as many clubbers out as usual, which made it the perfect night for us to find our feet.

"We weren't sure how we would be received but everyone seems very pleased to have our presence and we're looking forward to offering any support we can."

ARTS lovers brushed up on their creative skills at the grand opening of a new town centre art gallery on Saturday.

Visitors to Gatehouse Arts in West Gate got a unique insight into the creative process and got the chance to see local artists at work in the affordable studios.

The 16 studios and exhibition space will provide 20 local artists with an inexpensive place to create their masterpieces and support their professional growth.

Harlow-based artist Hung Voong said: "Growing up in Harlow, we've never had an opportunity like this before.

"It gives us hope that someone out there cares about what we're doing."

The project's partners - which include Essex County Council, Harlow Council, Harlow Renaissance and Harlow

Town Centre Partnership - hope the previously vacant units will renew interest in the town centre with studio events, workshops and gallery shows.

Jeremy Lucas, the county council's cabinet member for heritage, culture and the arts, said: "This is a very exciting initiative and will provide a great opportunity for growing artists to acquire space to support their professional development."

Renaissance chief executive Andrew Bramidge added: "Harlow is already known for its artistic heritage with its exceptional sculpture collection.

"We're delighted that Gatehouse Arts continues this rich heritage by bringing the arts into the community as well as providing the opportunity for local artists to be supported as they develop their business skills."

Warning over cuts to housing benefit

GOVERNMENT cuts to housing benefits could force hard-up Harlow tenants out of their homes, a charity has warned.

Independent research commissioned by Shelter found the average Harlow home will be £69 a month worse off if planned cuts to the Local Housing Allowance are approved by ministers.

The charity also warned that landlords may not be sympathetic to struggling households, claiming the cutbacks could result in up to 134,000 hard-up families across the country being made homeless or forced to find somewhere cheaper to live.

The new study, by the University of Cambridge, estimates that up to 35,000 households will be forced to approach their local authority for housing assistance, potentially costing the Government

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

£120 million a year.

Shelter chief executive Campbell Robb said: "Shelter's research clearly shows that these cuts will mean households in Harlow are going to face a real struggle keeping a roof over their head.

"Unfortunately, an increase in homelessness is inevitable."

He warned Harlow Council to prepare itself for extra pressure on its already stretched housing stock.

"We urge Harlow Council to set aside resources to ensure the most vulnerable, including children, pensioners and the disabled, are protected from these cuts," he said.

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon claimed

"urgently needed" public spending cuts would not affect the poor and needy.

"I am absolutely determined that reforms to housing benefit should not hurt vulnerable people in Harlow.

"There are serious problems with the Housing Benefit system and reform is urgently needed.

"Partly, this is because we now spend more on Housing Benefit than we do on the police and universities combined, and the money doesn't always reach the families who genuinely need it.

He added: "That is why I am glad that the Government is tripling the budget for Additional Discretionary Housing Payments to £60 million a year from 2013-2014.

"This will act as a cushion, protecting the social tenants in Harlow, who genuinely need the money."

Trust's joy at new deal on Stow rent

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PROTRACTED lease negotiations for a cash-strapped charity's Harlow headquarters have finally been settled after trustees struck a compromise deal with Harlow Council.

As reported in last week's Star, The Cornerstone Trust had been left reeling by the authority's "astronomical" rent demand of £13,000 for its base in The Stow.

And although a compromise deal was thrashed out following intervention from the Star, talks hit a new stumbling block when the authority asked for the charity to cough up for several months of back-dated rent.

But an agreement was finally reached on Tuesday that will safeguard the charity's future for at least three years, at which point the lease will again be up for renewal.

Trustee John Lowry said: "The Trustees of Cornerstone Trust are very grateful to the Star for its assistance in enabling the trust and Harlow Council to reach agreement on the lease renewal.

"Without the Star's intervention, we simply wouldn't have reached agreement with the council on reasonable terms, bearing in mind the position of deadlock reported last week.

"We are also very grateful for the public support shown by the local community during the past week, which has been a real boost in helping us support those most in need in our local community.

He added: "Now that the lease renewal is out of the way, we can focus on the work in hand knowing our accommodation needs are secure for the next three years or so."

Cllr Simon Carter, chairman of Harlow Council's resources policy working group, added:

"The new lease is due to be signed shortly.

"We look forward to continuing working with Cornerstone in the future."

The charity, which provides formal advocacy, training and support for people with learning difficulties, needs to raise £25,000 this year to continue offering its current level of service.

Mr Lowry said the trust would welcome any offers of support from local businesses to help support its services.

"The trust remains keen to hear from local businesses and local organisations that want to support our work in some way – financial or otherwise," he said.

Woodlands get ponds for wildlife

VITAL new ponds have been created in Harlow woodland to ensure rare and threatened species continue to thrive.

Harlow Council has dug nine clean water ponds in Latton Woods after receiving a £1,500 grant from the Million Pounds Project and Biffaward.

The initiative will provide an ideal habitat for great crested newts and will mean that hundreds of other plants and animals will have a secure future in Harlow.

Cllr Tony Hall, chairman of the environment policy working group, said: "Harlow Council staff and volunteers work hard to promote biodiversity and protect wildlife sites around the town, like Latton Woods.

"We were very happy to take part in this new project which, with the help of volunteers, has created nine new clean water ponds to help safeguard rare and threatened species.

"The Million Ponds Project has been very helpful, helping us to make the best possible ponds, and finding the money to pay for it."

Million Ponds project officer Pascale Nicolet said: "This is an ideal spot to create wildlife ponds because the water coming off the woodland is clean and free from pollution.

"It means the delicate plants and animals that can't survive in polluted ponds will be able to find a home here.

"We are thankful to Biffaward for providing the funds that have made this work possible."

Smoke alarms tests as 'serious' fire figures rise

SMOKE alarms in hundreds of Harlow homes will be checked as part of a new initiative to curb the rising number of fire and smoke-related accidents in the town.

Harlow Council and maintenance contractors Kier Harlow have teamed up with Essex County Fire & Rescue Service (ECFRS) to inspect the life-saving devices in around 1,800 homes in the coming months.

ECFRS say serious fires – which it classifies as those that result in casualties, necessary escape or rescue – are up 11 per cent compared to last year's figures.

Around 600 people die in 100,000 building fires every year across the UK.

ECFRS divisional officer Mark Samuels said: "This partnership with Kier Harlow and Harlow Council will help us to make sure that homes throughout Harlow have life-saving smoke alarms fitted.

"A smoke alarm is the single most important piece of equipment in any home. They provide vital warning at the first sign of fire, giving families time to get out and to safety before calling us."

Gas safety checks will also be conducted as part of the initiative.

Mr Samuels added: "It gives us access to provide protection to people who may not otherwise have thought about smoke alarms until it was too late."

Sentence calls time on binge-drink 'monster'

A BINGE-drinking thug who carried out three "horrific" attacks on drinkers in two Harlow pubs while high on cocaine and alcohol has escaped a stretch behind bars.

Jonathan Chilcott (21), of High Street, Old Harlow, was instead given a 10 month suspended sentence after admitting two offences of assault causing actual bodily harm and one of assault by beating.

He was also banned from all pubs and night-clubs in the town and ordered to attend drug rehab for a period of nine months, enrol on a Thinking Skills course and pay £1,000 costs.

Other shocking footage showed Chilcott punching one man in the back of the head and hitting another two men in the face – leaving one unconscious outside a pub for 20 minutes until paramedics arrived.

Lauren Husian, prosecuting, said the first incident took place on February 27 when victims Paul Smith and Stephen Betteridge were attacked outside the Chequers Pub in Market Street.

Mr Betteridge suffered a broken nose, a black eye and swelling to the back of the head.

But despite the use of CCTV, Chilcott was not arrested until after the second incident on May 6, which took place inside the Poplar Kitten Pub in Tawneys Road, where Ross Smith was attacked "for no reason" and left unconscious on the floor.

David Wilson, mitigating, described the attacks as "deeply unpleasant" but claimed Chilcott had drunk 15 pints of lager and taken six grams of cocaine before committing one of the offences.

A plumber's assistant, the defendant was described by Mr Wilson as a "two-pronged character" – working hard during the week but a "monster" affected by drink and drugs at weekends.

Sentencing Chilcott, Recorder Philip Brook Smith said: "You have been given an opportunity to turn your life around – if you don't significant sentences are likely to follow."

He described the attacks as "horrific" and continued: "It is plain you are a binge-drinker and coupled with the use of cocaine, there is considerable danger to those who come your way."

STAR ATTRACTIONS:

Celebrate Harlow visitors had the chance to see a preview of Aladdin and a live debate, below. (S)

Celebration opens doors on hidden treasures

A WEEK of family-friendly open doors events celebrating some of Harlow's top attractions kicked off on Saturday.

Celebrate Harlow – which continues until this Sunday – is designed to showcase locations residents might not normally visit and encourage them to view the town's attractions in a new light. Saturday's opening event at the Civic Centre saw visitors pick up the baton for a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to conduct musicians from the city of London Sinfonia, join in a sheep-sculpting workshop and watch a lively debate in the council chamber. The following day's entertainment drew visitors to Harlow Playhouse where they were treated to ballet, hip-hop and puppetry classes and previews of upcoming productions. A Celebrate Harlow spokesperson said: "Scores of families enjoyed themselves at open doors events this past weekend, and hopefully even more will take advantage of remaining events over the next few days."

"It's a chance for residents to experience places they perhaps have never been to, and to allow children the opportunity to learn about their town." Events still to come include a penalty shoot-out on Harlow Town Football Club's hallowed turf on Thursday, a mini-music festival at the Museum of Harlow on Sunday and a sculpture tour of Harlow's renowned Gibberd Garden, also on Sunday. ## Checks to catch out fly-tippers

A COUNCIL-backed crack-down on illegal fly-tipping began last Thursday with stop-checks on vehicles suspected of carrying commercial waste.

Harlow Council has joined forces with Essex traffic police and Essex County Council to spearhead the new initiative, which will also see drivers apprehended for using mobile phones or failing to buckle up.

The project continues the work started by the council last November when it pushed for vehicles to acquire the correct permits to carry commercial waste, dishing out penalties worth £600.

The operation was hailed a success after it prompted a number of local businesses to apply for waste carrier licences.

Cllr Joel Charles, chairman of the community and citizenship working group, said: "We are pleased to be able to work with other organisations in this way."

"Fly-tipping is a big issue across the country and illegal waste carriers are responsible for a large percentage of this."

"It costs the council thousands of pounds every year to clean up after fly-tippers"

He added: "The public can help by reporting anyone they see fly-tipping."

Residents are responsible for checking that any company they hire to haul away their waste holds a waste carrier licence. Choosing a non-reputable business to dump your garbage could result in a fine of up to £5,000.

To report fly-tipping, call (01279) 446655 or email contact@harlow.gov.uk

Ted was a wonderful man with many friends and we were heartened to see so many of his friends at the service. Thank you to everyone who has personally contacted the family with lovely cards, letters, messages and generous donations. Your words of comfort are greatly appreciated at such a difficult time. We would also like to personally thank David Welsh for the lovely service and kind attention you gave the family and also Dr Radhakrishnan and the doctors and nurses at Jenner House and Galan House for their kindness and care throughout Ted's illness. Ted is deeply missed by his family and friends but will never be forgotten.

Will you help campaign raise vital charity cash?

LAW firms in Harlow and Epping have signed up to a charity campaign which offers residents the chance to have their wills drafted in exchange for donations.

The annual Will Aid campaign will run throughout November, raising money for nine major UK charities, including the British Red Cross and Save the Children UK.

Last year's national fundraising effort raised £1.25 million. Donations starting at around £40 are encouraged for a change to a previous will, and are expected to rise for more complicated procedures.

Harlow firms taking part in the campaign include Whiskers in Kitson Way, LD Law in West Walk, and Attwaters in West Square, while Whiskers in Epping is also offering the service.

The campaign has proved popular in previous years and boeing early is advised.

Honour for gardening guru

A CELEBRITY gardener from Sawbridgeworth has been awarded an honorary doctorate from the University of Essex.

Green-fingered expert Christine Walkden, who is resident gardener on BBC's The One Show, has been given the honour for services to horticulture.

The star of Christine's Garden, which was filmed at her home in the town, was presented with her degree from Writtle College by fellow celebrity horticulturalist Alan Titchmarsh at a ceremony at Chelmsford Cathedral last Thursday.

Take a spin with run of The Mill high flyers

If you've never witnessed three linen-clad acrobats executing gravity-defying stunts on a human-scale hamster wheel controlled by a complex system of ropes and pulleys, chances are you've yet to enter the topsy-turvy, Heath Robinson-esque world of aerial theatre company Ockham's Razor. But fear not, because the group's thrilling synthesis of mime and machine rolls into the Playhouse next week evening for what is certain to be one of the theatre's most innovative shows of the season. Featuring three award-winning aerial artists who specialise in creating physical theatre on new and originally designed pieces of aerial equipment, the company combines circus, dance and mime to spin gripping yarns in a uniquely arresting and entertaining way.

The group enjoyed rave reviews and sold-out performances throughout the UK and Europe in 2008/9 with their tantalising triple bill of Arc, Every Actio and Memento Mori, and is fast acquiring a reputation as one of the country's most talented and innovative performance companies.

Ockham's Razor The Playhouse, Harlow

New show The Mill premiered in January of this year with three sold-out nights at the Royal Opera House as part of The London International Mime Festival, winning a fantastic response from audiences and critics.

A visually stunning piece of theatre, it features a huge wheel made of wood and steel which is powered by the performers and suspended three metres in the air. A company spokesman told the Star: "They perform in it, on top of it and beneath it and using more than 100 metres of rope and several cable drums it links in to become part of a bigger system."

"This creates a world where a seemingly small decision or action gathers momentum and impetus beyond your control, snowballing until you find yourself running like mad to power the treadmill while someone else is riding it like a ferris wheel."

The show is directed by Toby Sedgwick, who won the Olivier Award for Best Theatre Choreography for his work on the hugely successful National Theatre production of War Horse.

The Playhouse show takes place in the main auditorium at 8pm on Wednesday. Tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions / £8 Playhouse Supporters Club members) and are available from (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

DEFYING GRAVITY: the world-renowned Ockham's Razor bring their latest show to Harlow next week.

All aboard as young writers share bus stories

BUDDING wordsmiths hoping to get the wheels turning early on their literary careers are being urged to put pen to paper for a new short story competition run by a local bus firm.

In a bid to encourage children to use their journey time for reading, Arriva is offering prizes to the best story written about a memorable journey.

Linsey Frostick, customer service manager for Arriva Shires and Essex, said: "People tell us they really value the time they get with their books on the bus." She said the firm wanted to encourage imaginative thinking within the framework of a bus-themed tale. "The story could be about the first time they went on a bus, a special trip, or completely made up - it's up to them," she said. Arriva's competition follows on the footsteps of its recent mobile classroom campaign, where five buses travelled to Luton, Leeds, Manchester, Burton-on-Trent and Stockton-on-Tees and spoke to children about the benefits of public transport. The talented young writer lucky enough to warm the hearts of the Arriva staff will win a laptop, bus tickets and a spot on the company's website. Runners-up will also land free bus tickets.

The closing date is Sunday, September 19, and entries should be between 500 and 1,000 words. Stories and contact information should be sent to shortstory@arriva.co.uk.

It has been almost four years since Will Ferrell starred in Stranger Than Fiction, a film that could justifiably claim to be a comedy without arousing the suspicions of trading standards. Undeniably, he is a gifted mimic and with the right script, Ferrell can reduce an entire audience to helpless laughter.

However, with a reported US$20 million fee per film, making him one of the most expensive commodities in Hollywood, the leading man hardly seems good value for money when he serves up tripe including Land Of The Lost and Semi-Pro.

Thankfully, the Saturday Night Live stalwart rediscovers some of his lustre in The Other Guys.

Directed and co-written by Adam McKay, who previously made Talladega Nights: The Ballad Of Ricky Bobby and Anchorman, this intentionally ludicrous buddy cop movie pairs Ferrell with a hilariously self-mocking Mark Wahlberg.

Explosive action sequences collide with

The Other Guys
certificate 12A 107mins

polished one-liners and some amusing supporting performances, like Michael Keaton as the beleaguered police chief, who works a second job to pay for his son's university education.

Detectives PK Highsmith (Samuel L Jackson) and Christopher Danson (Dwayne Johnson) are the golden boys of the NYPD, monopolising newspaper headlines with their gung-ho antics.

When the two officers are sidelined, hot-headed Terry Hoitz (Mark Wahlberg) and his mild-mannered partner Allen Gamble (Will Ferrell) vie with rival detectives Fosse (Damon Wayans Jr) and Martin (Rob Riggle) to lead the team.

"I'm a peacock. You've got to let me fly," Terry implores Captain Gene Mauch (Keaton), desperate to be included on a case involving multi-millionaire David Ershon (Steve Coogan).

When his pleas fall on deaf ears, Terry drags Allen into the field with only a wooden replica gun for protection. The Other Guys gets considerable mileage from several running jokes, including Terry's choice of car and his ability to pull insanely sexy women like his wife, Dr Sheila Gamble (Eva Mendes).

Wahlberg has a blast as the rogue cop with a short fuse and Ferrell brings out the sweetness and vulnerability of his clumsy oaf, who cheerfully reveals: "There are three things I love in this world: Kylie Minogue, the dimples in a woman's back above her buttocks and the fear in a man's eyes who knows I'm going to hurt him."

Coogan fares less well in a thankless supporting role. The plot careers along at breakneck speed, unchaining itself from plausibility early on with the sudden and unexpected exits of Jackson and Johnson.

Gags hit more targets than they miss, which is a blessed relief, and we could cheerfully entertain another investigation for Terry and Allen in the future.

Hack's hunt for a killer Down with the Devil

CRUSADING journalist Mikael Blomkvist has not heard from computer hacker Lisbeth Salander for a year.

He has ploughed his energy into Millennium magazine, edited by Erika Berger, who is also his on-off lover, and together they are working on an explosive story about a sex trafficking ring. Days before publication, young writer Dag Svensson and his girlfriend Mia, who brought the story to Millennium, are slain and the murder weapon is tracked back to corrupt lawyer Nils Bjurman, who is Lisbeth's guardian. When police inspect the gun, they discover Lisbeth's fingerprints. However, Mikael refuses to believe that Lisbeth is capable of such an atrocity.

BASED ON a story by M Night Shyamalan (The Sixth Sense), which was then adapted for the screen by Brian Nelson, Devil is an edge-of-seat thriller about a group of apparent strangers trapped in a lift, who discover that one of their number is Satan. Security guard Ben (Bokeem Woodbine), mechanic Tony (Logan Marshall-Green), suited salesman Vince (Geoffrey Arend), corporate climber Sarah (Bojana Novakovic) and an older woman (Jenny O'Hara) all enter the same lift only for the car to become stuck between floors. As tensions within the claustrophobic space explode, Detective Bowden (Chris Messina) works tirelessly to free the five strangers from their suspended prison before the thickening air of fear and paranoia compels them to turn on each other.

Room to expand at safe, friendly business centre

HARLOW Business Centre provides support to companies that wish to relocate their growing business – and Go Express Couriers has done just that. Having moved to the centre several years ago, the independent courier company offers a range of rapid delivery solutions.

Owner Peter Andrews, who takes a keen interest in local business support groups and is an avid supporter of St Clare Hospice and other charities, takes great pride in his business and is keen to continue to offer an unequalled level of customer service, supplied by his smartly-uniformed and professional drivers.

Go Express Couriers have a fleet of vehicles ranging from small vans to 7.5-tonne vans that can carry anything and everything. For a competitive quotation, for same day, overnight or international deliveries, phone (01279) 4433 77.

Clients such as Go Express Couriers have taken advantage of the easy-in/easy-out licence agreements on offer at Harlow Business Centre. Businesses' refuse will be collected and there is 24/7 access to the units. There is also free designated and visitor parking and the on-site management is happy to oversee deliveries if required.

SMOOTH MOVE: Go Express Couriers owner Peter Andrews is just one businessman who has taken advantage of Harlow Business Centre's raft of services and facilities.

They will also provide administration support for the businesses.

If you're looking for affordable business premises within a friendly, professional and secure centre, please call the centre manager on (01279) 429644 or visit the website www.harlow-businesscentre.co.uk

Surveyors help to get the best from property

WITH interest rates at an all time low, owning commercial property can be a good way of achieving better returns on your money, but only if you know what your doing.

Being a commercial landlord in this day and age means not only complying with a raft of Government legislation but having the ability to maximise the returns from your property.

There are numerous ways to add value to your property, for example by renting advertising space or seeking planning permission to extend your property and add additional floors?

It is also important to maintain a good landlord and tenant relationship and dealing with rent reviews and lease renewals on time and in the correct manner can help avoid tenants vacating or defaulting on their leases. Ultimately, if you do have end up with an empty property you will need advice on dilapidations and re-letting or selling the property.

Strettons Chartered Surveyors can offer you all these services and more. It is a multi-disciplinary firm dealing with all aspects of commercial property, with five offices across London and Essex, including a new office on Mulberry Green in Old Harlow.

Still strong and getting better!

The theory goes that familiarity breeds contempt, but if another two months in the company of the SEAT Leon FR TDI is anything to go by, this particular axiom can be consigned to the history books. Another 3,500 miles has been covered during the summer, over all sorts of roads and in a variety of conditions – even some very thick Welsh mud. Yet the FR TDI with the slick DSG gearbox continues to offer a seemingly spot-on blend of performance and usability. The regular daily commute has a mix of urban streets, motorway and a brief twisty country road, and the Leon deals with them all in the same unflappable manner. Yes, the FR version has firm suspension, but certainly not harsh: there are softer versions should you feel the need, but if entertaining B-roads feature on your favourite routes then anything less would be a waste. The steering and brakes are also finely judged: the power assistance means parking with a single finger, but above 30-40mph there is reduced help, with the accuracy and good weighting that keeps you fully informed about what is happening at the front wheels. All of which adds up to a lot of fun when the conditions are right. The FR is a hot, but not super, hatch, and so has enough power to be quick and enough grip to be fast, but not so much that only the emptiest of roads can be fun. A quick comparison with the daddy of the Leon range, the Cupra R, where the FR's strengths lie. The Cupra R has a rippling 261bhp, will blast to 62mph from rest in only 6.2

seconds and reach 155mph. Around the twists of Rockingham race circuit and on the surrounding roads it was an absolute blast. Yet climbing back into the FR at the end of the day wasn't a disappointment, because it would still be keen to play as well as cover the ground without fuss and in a very economical fashion. Economy is proving to be one of the Leon's trump cards too. Common knowledge says that diesel engines take a good few thousand miles to settle in, and as they do economy improves steadily. Despite some less than sympathetic driving and the occasional abandonment of a good green ethic, the Leon FR has averaged a very respectable 41mpg, with a best figure well into the mid-50s. Although fractionally less frugal than the manual version, the DSG gearbox makes it easier to extract better figures. More miles have also revealed some more small details that simply add to the Leon's all-round competence. For example, it has heated electric folding door mirrors as standard, but until very recently it seemed the only way to fold them when parking was to flip the interior switch. Not so: all that's required is to hold the locking button on the remote for an extra two seconds, and the door mirrors neatly tuck out of the way of inconsiderate drivers. Another clever trick is that, when descending a steep hill with your foot on the brake, the DSG gearbox recognises the situation and shifts down a gear for you, as you should anyway and a useful stress reliever on the brakes.

A summer holiday also proved the Leon is still at heart a family hatch. Ordinarily such an undertaking would require a large MPV at the very least to squeeze everything in, but on this occasion a modest roof box was it all took. Two adults, two children and all the assorted paraphernalia all went in with plenty of room to spare. Still going strong and getting better all the time is the end of term report. What is also very revealing is that, given the choice, there's very little on the Leon FR that could be changed for the better. Roll on autumn.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Independent expertise in action

which?

All contact centre jobs are the same, right? Not if you believe the Which? team in Hertford. And, given they're the face of an organisation famous for its independent, expert advice, why wouldn't you?

Their Customer Service Centre receives around 2,250 calls from members and new customers every day. But it's the nature of the conversations that make a job at Which? different from other contact centre roles. No two calls are the same – and each takes a bit more consideration than just checking an account query or taking a payment.

"No two calls are the same"

Say a member rings up for advice on a new computer. It's the advisor's job to help them get the most from all the impartial information Which? has to offer. It might be a revealing new report that's just been published on their website. Or one of their range of specialist magazines packed full of the latest consumer advice. Then there's their regular Technology podcast for up-to-the minute news and views.

Promoting the products and services offered by Which? is an important part of the job. But their approach to sales is refreshingly different too. Because they believe the best way to show customers the value of joining Which? is to provide them with the best possible service. It's simple. And it works.

"...everyone goes the extra mile to support one another. It's a culture like no other."

Of course, giving credible, informative advice to customers with all kinds of different needs takes plenty of knowledge and confidence. That's why all new joiners receive comprehensive training and have the opportunity to study for the City & Guilds Level 1 Introduction to the Contact Centre Industry. Plus they'll hear first hand all the latest consumer news and product reviews.

This commitment to great service, expert knowledge and trusted advice means everyone believes in what they're doing. Everyone is involved in the future of the business. And everyone goes the extra mile to support one another. It's a culture – and a career – like no other.

Advertorial feature

Don't think 'Where?'. Think Which?

The people at Which? know a thing or two about making smart decisions. So, we asked a couple of members of their Hertford Customer Service Centre team why they chose the UK's most trusted provider of independent consumer advice as a home for their career.

For Gemma, Sales & Service Advisor, it started as a practicality:

"The shift patterns were really attractive." And it wasn't long before other benefits kicked in: "It's very different to other contact centres I've worked in. It's focused but relaxed, there's a great team spirit and I'm doing something I really believe in."

"At other places I've worked, people just turn up, do their work and go home," chips in Josh. "Here it's completely different. Everyone's so friendly and likeminded. There are always team games and incentives to keep us motivated. But at the end of the day, it's the variety of different challenges I most enjoy."

So what does the job involve?

"In a nutshell, we provide informed, impartial advice to our existing members and new customers," explains Josh. "It's extremely satisfying and extremely varied. It might be a cliché, but no two calls are the same!" adds Gemma.

There's plenty to look forward to as well. "It feels like the first step in a career," says Josh. "You get so much training, guidance and mentoring – and you can always see your next move if you want it." As for Gemma, "I'll soon be starting a City and Guilds course. And I'm currently being developed for a Team Manager role: after just one year."

"It's focused but relaxed, there's a great team spirit and I'm doing something I really believe in."

Josh has a few final words for anyone thinking of joining the team: "If you're a people person, resilient and able to think on your feet, then give it a go – it's a great place to work as well as friendly people to work with."

Endeavour costs defeated Harlow

These came either side of Harlow lock Mark Twiner being sin-binned on 18 minutes for a loose play infringement.

A swift attack preceded Chris Georganas scoring in the corner.

The visitors then exploited the extra man when speedy left winger Tom Perry ran the length of the pitch to touch down.

Old Streetonians added another unconverted try on the half-hour mark through Silverstone.

Shortly before the break, Harron touched down for a second try. The conversion was missed and the hosts trailed 18-12 at the break.

Streetonians' prop Will O'Shea was yellow carded for foul play on 48 minutes.

Dobson kicked the resultant penalty and Harlow then exerted strong pressure for the next 15 minutes but failed to make the use of any openings, through silly errors.

Back to a full compliment, a breakaway saw right winger Georganas score a 68th-minute try to put the Londoners 23-15 up.

Harlow fought back and from a 5m scrum, Paul Prindiville touched down an unconverted try in the corner.

However, the Rams were unable to claw back the small deficit and went down to defeat despite having an extra man for more than four minutes.

HARLOW: Banks, Mackie, L. Bowering, Vanbeck, Grimley, Dobson, Harron, Prindiville, Mallia, Cunningham (Lewis 60), Twiner (Barr 55), Eynon, Roberts, Claridge, M. Bowering.

HARLOW RFC 2010-11 SEASON

Rams suffer a lock out!

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertssexnews.co.uk

DIRECTOR of rugby Lee Harron has a headache over his second row options for the Rams' home clash against Saffron Walden this Saturday.

Lock Mark Twiner is set to be out for six weeks after a knee injury he sustained in Harlow's opening league clash against Old Streetonians five days ago.

Harron already has lock Terry Blackwell sidelined by a knee injury.

Harron said: "Mark's injury is a blow and means we have another second row player out."

"Darren Hawkins [second row] has been out with an injury and has missed games but I'm hoping he comes through training on Thursday [today]."

HEADACHE: Director of Rugby Lee Harron (HSP0677786)

The experienced Paul Eynon is an option to move into the second row but Harron may need him for the number eight slot if Kain Claridge cannot make the Walden clash because of work commitments.

Harron said backs Lewis Alderman and Chris Bates will be available for the Walden clash after they were not registered in time for the Streetonians match.

Harlow suffered a 23-20 defeat after opting to kick a last-minute penalty into touch and get a draw rather than take a certain three point kick in front of the posts at Ram Gorse last Saturday.

Harron said: "Hindsight is a wonderful thing. I had the whole world and his wife telling me to go for the kick. They were flagging and if we had scored it would have been the best decision."

"We play rugby to win and another try then would have given us a bonus point win [for four tries]."

He added: "We created enough chances to win and they took theirs. Our discipline around the breakdown was not good enough."

Looking ahead Harron added: "Saffron Walden will be a difficult game for us."

Keeping up with the Jones for super fightback

THERE was an unusual hat-trick for Summers Cobras U-9 starlet Harry Jones as he inspired his side to a tremendous fightback against Langley Colts B in the West Essex & East Herts Youth Football League.

His side were 2-0 down and he had scored a very unfortunate own goal before he hit two brilliant goals at the right end to help

Summers to a 6-3 victory. Tyler Welch and Harry Bannister also netted for Cobras.

In the same division, Soccer Mayhem's clinical edge proved the difference as they triumphed 3-1 against Summers Vipers.

Summers were 3-0 down at half-time but showed tremendous courage to win the second half 1-0 thanks to a goal from debutant

Kane Waterfield, who had an excellent game.

Harrison Leathers set up two goals as Summers Cobras U-8 won 6-1 against visiting Frontiers. The scorers included Matthew Ayers, Ronnie Edwards (2) and Kai Boggan (2).

Quartet help Essex to Eastern Counties joy

Athletics

FOUR Harlow athletes helped Essex retain three trophies in an Eastern Counties competition at Chelmsford.

Six counties took part in Saturday's contest which saw Essex retain the senior women's, senior men's and U-17 boys titles.

Kirsty McIntosh (23) won the senior women's pole vault (3.40m).

Sixteen-year-old St Mark's School pupil Sam Bengue won the 1,500m in 4 mins 56.3 secs.

Alex Hill (16), who was making her Essex debut, was second in the B string 400m senior women's event.

She recorded a personal best (PB) time of 58.63s.

Alex, who is coached by Nat Fisher at Harlow Athletic Club, ran a sub-60 seconds time for the 4x400m relay event which Essex also won.

Tyler Bown (15) from Mark Hall School came second in the B U-17 200 metres in 23.8s.

In the end of season South of East England rankings, Harlow athletes Andrew Osagie and Molly Gardner are in the top two.

Osagie is ranked first and Gardner is second respectively in the senior men's 800m and U-11 girls 600m.

Top five finish after win in final match

Squash

HARLOW second team rounded off their Herts Summer Squash League division four programme with a well-earned 2-1 victory at Allenbury's in Ware.

First string John Tennant never quite got to grips with his opponent and lost 15-12, 15-12, 15-12.

By contrast, second string Peter Izatt easily won his first two sets 15-8 and 15-0 but then relaxed too much, losing the third set 15-12. Izatt then pulled himself together to win the fourth set 15-13 for a 3-1 win.

Third string Richard Lewis lost a close first set 13-15 but then won the next three sets 15-10, 15-9, 15-13 for a 3-1 win.

Harlow finished 5th in the 10-team division.

Double vision for Cruse in Stort Valley success

Twenty-two members took part and caught 325lb of fish, with club stalwart and fundraiser Malcolm Gregg coming second with a haul of 35lbs 8ozs, 10ozs ahead of club chairman, Mick Westby.

Cruse won the annual Nettleswell Cup when he landed a fine mixed bag of 25lbs 1oz.

Long serving club member, Tony Henson, came second (16lbs 5ozs) just more than 1lb ahead of Nettleswell regular Derek Dampney, who filled third spot.

Colts ready for English Cup test

HARLOW Rugby Club's Colts should approach their English National Club Cup first round home tie against Chingford this Sunday with plenty of confidence.

This was after the Rams side put in a strong performance when they went down narrowly at home to a strong Ipswich Colts in a friendly four days ago.

Andrew Goodchild was played out of position at lock but he still put in a top performance to earn the player-of-the-match award.

Early action saw Danny Smith slot over two penalties for the hosts.

Between these scores, the Suffolk side kicked a penalty leaving the Rams 6-3 up.

Ipswich then scored three unconverted tries without reply to put them into a commanding 18-6 lead.

A rolling maul set up the first try before the visitors extended their advantage when a centre crashed over for a second try before another touch down put Harlow further behind.

However, against the run of play,

Alfie Elston forced his way over for a try which was converted by Smith.

Harlow trailed 18-13 at the break. Early in the second half, a Smith penalty cut Ipswich's lead to two points.

Harlow then exerted pressure which was resisted until a strong run from Ben Hockley saw him burst through to score under the posts.

Smith added the conversion to put the Rams 21-18 ahead.

Further home pressure was resisted but a break from Ipswich forced the hosts onto the back foot and the Suffolk side scored the winning try with four minutes to go.

Harlow were unable to respond to this score and lost narrowly.

HARLOW COLTS: Pedder, Flynn, Buckridan, Foster, Goodchild, Norris, Hammond, Heaton, Gregory, Smith, Clark, Gleeson, Brigenshaw, Coleman, Hockley. Subs: Batten, Alden, Newton-Rae, Elston, Evans.

● HARLOW U-16's made a good start to the season when they beat Datchworth 22-5 at home.

The Rams went ahead when centre Josh Davies scored a try out wide. Fly-half Matt Norris was unlucky when he hit the crossbar with a difficult conversion attempt.

Harlow led 5-0 at half-time and increased their lead after the interval after good work set up prop Jordan Mansfield to score an unconverted try.

Harlow then scored another try through flanker Sonny Handscomb from a line-out move, before Young Rams skipper Zaci Chamneiou touched down the team's fourth try. The visitors had the last word, scoring a well deserved try three minutes before the end.

Harlow U-16 (squad): Mansfield, Bailey, Chamneiou, Doe, O'Hanlon, Handscombe, Bircham, Lane, Riddell, Norris, Healy, Davies, Knightley, MacMaster, Roberts, Alger, Ramsey, Martin.

Meanwhile, Harlow's U-14's went down 38-0 at home to a well-drilled Shelford side after they trailed 20-0 at the break.

Four-midable Harlow earn plum FA Cup tie

Jon Stevenson fired in after his initial header from Cowley's corner was blocked.

Harlow were fortunate when Isaac Aubyn headed Darryl Wilson's right-wing cross away from goal.

The Hawks improved after the break and went 2-0 up on 47 minutes.

Awarded a free-kick on the right, Cowley lifted the ball over the wall and the home keeper Ashley Green before it nestled into the far corner for easily the goal of the night.

On 55 minutes, Madden did well to block an effort from Bethnal sub Kadir Jama at the far post before saving a rebound shot from Karl Blake.

But two minutes later it was 3-0 and end of story. Che Stadhart's cross from the right was fired in by the predatory Cowley from 12 yards.

On 75 minutes, home player Leon Ryan was sent off for abusive language towards the referee after Harlow were awarded a free-kick. From this, Cowley sent the ball into the box and the loose ball was drilled in by Clark Akers.

Warren added: "They did not trouble us much in the first half and they got more tired in the second half. We applied ourselves properly."

FA Cup, first qualifying round

By ALAN SCOTT

THE Hawks paid for a lacklustre display as Essex Senior League side Bethnal Green United snatched a replay in the first qualifying round of the FA Cup at Barrows Farm.

However, Harlow Town boss Kevin Warren was unhappy at the referee's decision to play more than SIX minutes of injury-time in a game where there were hardly any stoppages.

The Essex Senior League minnows equalised five-and-a-half minutes into stoppage time and the whistle went 10 seconds after the restart.

But in all honesty Harlow can only blame themselves for the draw. They lacked a clinical edge throughout the match and were subdued.

Warren said: "I don't remember any stoppages. I think the ref was enjoying the match too much."

"Bethnal came and gave us a game. They put in a lot of effort and created chances."

"We probably put in our best performance of the season against Heybridge [four days earlier] and then our worst on Saturday.

"Maybe the pressure of being in the FA Cup played a part. We were expected to win. We did not play very well."

Bethnal Green started well and the hosts were thankful to keeper James Hasell early on. The custodian did well to make superb one-handed saves from Darryl Wilson and a the break and as the half wore on one sensed that the minnows could level.

Wilson wasted a gilt-edged chance on 71 minutes and moments later Stevenson rescued Hawks with a big clearance after a mistake from Hasell.

Michael Begg had the ball into the net for Bethnal Green on 80 minutes but this was ruled out as the assistant had spotted that the ball had gone out of play in the build-up.

However, the Hawks were finally undone with the very last attack of the game as Bethnal even sent their keeper upfield in search of a goal.

A free-kick was awarded out on the left and substitute Jamie Wallace pumped this into the six-yard box. Hasell hesitated when he should have punched clear and United's towering centre-half Ajibola Olatunbosun rose up to head towards the top right corner.

Hasell got a touch to it but could only push it onto a post before it nestled over the line, signalling wild celebrations from the small contingent of vociferous away fans.

There were some nasty scenes at the end as a couple of Bethnal Green fans walked right across the pitch from the main stand to goad the Harlow fans.

HARLOW TN: Hasell 5, Barnard 4, Barnes 5, Stewart 5, STEVENSON 6, Kilapi 5, Bradbury 4, Shave 4 (Cowley 54, 6), Yao 6, Stadhart 4 (Akers 88), Modeste-Humphrey 4 (Hammond 74, 5). Subs not used: Bunn, Roget, Wheeler, Madden (gk). Att: 214.

Replay win was just the tonic

OUR new weekly column from Hawks captain Leo Roget.

ON reflection it was a job well done in the end!

We were all very disappointed with the performance and result on Saturday, drawing 1-1 with Bethnal Green in the FA Cup.

Fortunately we had a second bite of the cherry on Monday night and after Saturday's below-par performance the boys rolled up their sleeves and put in a very professional performance winning 4-0 in the replay at Bethnal Green.

Perhaps we were a little complacent during the first game, but for every negative from Saturday there was a positive from Monday and we have set ourselves up nicely, not only going into the next round of the Cup but also it gives us a huge lift going into a big game on Saturday against Needham Market.

With both teams lying joint second it's somewhat of a top-of-the-table clash and we'll be approaching it in a confident manner looking to get a positive result.

Again thanks to everybody who travelled to the concrete jungle on Monday night. I hope everybody got home safely!

New Yorke's back for Town

Warren said: "I think we sent out a message when we beat Heybridge away – they beat Sudbury 5-1 on Saturday."

"We need to follow that up with another win."

Skipper Leo Roget (hamstring), on the bench for both games against Bethnal Green, could also start.

Striker Jeff Hammond (hamstring) is a doubt, while Harlow are also without midfielder Shaun Gliddon, who is a week away from a return.

Central midfielder Andy Porter (dislocated shoulder) and full-back Mark Taylor (thigh) are out for three more weeks, while left-back Sam Taylor is awaiting a double hernia op.

No doubting Thomas in Lea Valley Trail

GRAHAME Thomas ran an excellent race as he clocked a superb time in the Two2Go Lea Valley Trail Marathon.

He was the leading Harlow Running Club finisher in three hours, 39 minutes and 37 seconds in Saturday's race.

He was followed home by club colleague John Bull (3:39.58).

Karen Moir was the first Harlow woman finisher in an excellent time of 4:36.45.

She was followed home by Janice Page (4:49.33) and Linda Selby (4:49.55).

The race is set along the tow paths of the River Lee between St Margarets in Hertfordshire and Hackney Marsh, finishing in the shadow of the growing Olympic Park.

Other Harlow runners were Howard Gaines (4:23.11), Dave Page (4:42.24) and Alison Bull (5:04.23).

Two Harlow runners competed in the Grunty Fen Half Marathon in Ely, Cambridgeshire, on Sunday.

Vipin Patel and Sharon Coleman finished together in a time of 2:17.15.

Endeavour costs Rams

THE Rams were left kicking themselves after they slipped to a narrow defeat against newly-promoted Old Streetonians.

Harlow were trailing 23-20 in their opening league clash at home on Saturday when the visitors' fly-half Sam Ingleby was sent off for persistent foul play and dissent on 76 minutes.

The hosts' win or bust mentality saw them run the ball from the resitant penalty and attempt to win the match with a try. However, this failed and Harlow were left to rue a kickable penalty in front of the posts which would have given them a share of the spoils.

Harlow had several first team regulars unavailable including skipper Scott Romaine (holiday), Rob Mackie deputised as captain.

First team debuts were given to prop Martin Cunningham and James Lewis (substitute) while there was a return for 30-year-old hooker and Malta international Martin Mallia.

Streetonians went ahead with a second-minute penalty from centre Andy Dunn.

Stung, Harlow scored on six minutes. Scrum-half Lee Harron peeled off the back of a home maul to score a try. Michael Dobson kicked the conversion.

Streetonians then scored two unconverted tries on 15 and 25 minutes.

Class from Cowley hands Hawks plum tie in FA Cup

DAVE Cowley was at the heart of Harlow Town's resourceful FA Cup replay win over Bethnal Green United at the Mile End Stadium on Monday.

The Hawks were only 1-0 up at half-time before their extra class told with Cowley excelling. He bagged two goals and had a hand in the other two.

Cowley, who is finally playing for his home town club, showed some of the skills he picked up at the renowned Glenn Hoddle Academy in Spain, which gives players a second chance if they are bombed out by professional clubs.

It was a totally different story from two days earlier, when the Hawks paid for a lacklustre display when Bethnal Green forced a replay in the 95th minute of Saturday's tie at Barrows Farm (see report on page 87).

The win gives Hawks a second qualifying round tie at Blue Square South side Lewes (two divisions above Harlow) in East Sussex in nine days.

FA Cup, first qualifying rnd replay
DAVID RIMMER reports from Mile End Stadium

"It will be a good day out for the lads. The pressure will be on Lewes like it was for us in this round," said Hawks boss Kevin Warren.

Warren was delighted with Cowley. He said: "Cowley is top drawer. We have done well to get him."

Warren brought in keeper Rhys Madden. James Hasell, who is getting married today (Thursday), was rested because of a sore wrist and a dislocated finger which he suffered in the FA Cup game against Barton Rovers 19 days ago.

"There was no point in risking James. It's a big week in his life. Rhys was up for the challenge. Everything he did was spot on," added Warren.

Louis Riddle also returned to the side after completing a three-match ban.

After a fairly quiet opening Hawks broke the deadlock on 34 minutes.

New Yorke's back for Town

REECE Yorke will return to the Hawks squad for Saturday's mouth-watering home match against second-placed Needham Market in Ryman division one north.

Harlow Town boss Kevin Warren has been delighted so far with the 17-year-old England Schoolboy international, who is on loan from League Two Barnet.

The centre-half was unable to feature in the two FA Cup games this week as the Bees did not want him Cup tied.

"He will be back. He is a young lad but he's strong. He will be an asset to us if we can keep him a bit longer," said the Hawks chief.

Warren expects a tough test from the Ridgeons Eastern Counties premier division last season. They are the top scorers in the division with 15 goals and are unbeaten with four wins from five games.

"They have started well. We know how strong they are. The Ridgeons League sides that come into the League are always going to be strong," said Warren. "They are going to be tough opposition. If we are not on top of our game it's going to be a tough afternoon."

Harlow, currently third in the table, are unbeaten at home this season.
